

LERATO'S STORY

Lerato was found in a plastic bag on the side of the road. Propped up against the frame of an outhouse, passersby noticed the sounds and movements of a newborn baby. Looking inside the dirty bag, they found a perfectly precious little girl. Still wet from her delivery and with umbilical cord still attached, Lerato was handed to a policeman who knew of a place that took children just like her.

After six years in Oasis Haven Family Homes, Lerato had transformed into a very social and outgoing little girl, wearing nothing but pink and having a self-confidence that would put most grown women to shame.

Though her beginnings may have been broken, her future has been redeemed. Because of a few people who chose to do more than just watch and pass by, her life will be a testimony to the power of a single act of compassion.

In January of 2011, Lerato was adopted by a special mommy who loves her deeply.

Caring for abandoned children, placing them in families and equipping others to do the same

A DESPERATE GENERATION

Current estimates place 5,700,000 people living with HIV in South Africa. These people are teachers, doctors, policemen, mothers and fathers. And as this group slowly disappears, they are leaving behind an orphaned generation. According to UNICEF, South Africa is a country where nearly 3.9 million of its children have lost one of both parents, approximately two thirds due to AIDS. The enormity of this challenge is significant and the call is great.

“

In as much as you did unto the least of these...you did unto me.

Matthew 25:40

Oasis Haven seeks to be part of the solution to this crisis by caring for South Africa's abandoned children, placing them into families and equipping others to do the same.

OUR STRATEGY

Our strategy is simple and revolves around the concept of "Family"

The Adoption Option:

We place children into Adoptive Families both locally in South Africa and throughout the world.

Family Homes:

Through our Family Homes, we aim to be a family to those children waiting to be adopted as well as those we cannot place.

We believe that the greatest need any child has is to grow up in a family with loving parents. In families, children receive the foundation they need to succeed in life. A family can provide a child with the promise of Forever... a promise that no institution or system make.

PARTNERING WITH OASIS

Oasis Haven is committed to care for our children at all times and in all ways. We make the unspoken promise that all parents make to their children, a promise to meet each unique need within each precious child until they are able to care for themselves.

Help us keep this commitment by becoming a "Family Friend" and make a monthly promise to help us meet the day to day needs of the children who call Oasis Haven home.

A monthly commitment of $25.00 or more is a promise kept and will go towards funding the following: food, clothing, education, medical needs, social workers, houseparent and caregiver support... a family and a home to call their very own.
